ADR008-Standard code formatter

Status

accepted

Context

For seamless working together on a shared code base it is advantageous to use the same code formatter. So a standard code formatter must be defined.

Decision

The standard code format is defined in the file formatter.xml. This XML is created as an eclipse-Formatter file, but can also be importet in other IDEs, such as Apache Netbeans or IntelliJ Idea.

Consequences

Everyone who creates or changes source code for the GAME application in this repository, must use this formatter setup to format the source code.
